Cow Working & Horsemanship Clinic

A product of the big ranch country in West Texas, Buster McLaury brings a unique perspective to his clinics and demos. Having made his living cowboying on and managing big outfits all his life, Buster has started thousands of colts under saddle and worked with hundreds of thousands of cattle. His 40+ years around livestock has gained him a wealth of information, experience, and stories which he readily shares with others. Buster met and was heavily influenced by Ray Hunt early on, which shines through in his kind, quiet approach to helping horses.

Cattle Working Class: (Sat.-Tues.: 8:00am-11:00, limit 12 riders)

Excellent opportunity for introducing your horse to cattle while building confidence. Those with more experience will appreciate Buster's focus on how to 'read' cattle and position for accurate influence with as little stress as possible on the horses, cattle and riders. Cattle fee paid at clinic.

Foundation Horsemanship Class: (Sat.-Tues.: noon-3:00pm)

Groundwork to lay the foundation for work under saddle, learning to hone communication and solve problems before getting on the horse are emphasized as well as working under saddle. Buster's clinic format is very low key, reminiscent of Tom Dorrance's with no pre-set exercises. Bring your questions and concerns. Fine for horses not under saddle yet.
